

Hypnagogic Art

Painting/sculpture: The canvas is bare, the weave clearly visible. The diagonal line is drawn in pencil, with a ruler, but the line is not sharp and smooth: it has edges, as though the pencil had just been sharpened. The frame is unpainted rectangular pine wood pieces of various sizes put together in almost random fashion.