Film or still photo: Variations on the Blue of a Roof
The corner of a one-story addition to a house white shingles on the sides, gray slate shingles on the roof. A sheet-metal chimney of narrow diameter on the roof, perhaps held with three or four wires. Cloudy gray skies: it is about to rain; we sense that the weather is cold, but with a "lining" of warmth. Pouring out of the chimney is thick, dark gray smoke with dark, purple spots.
